

View From the Rigging: Memoirs of a Coast Guard Career

By Captain Richard J. Marcott

WaveCloud Corporation. Paperback. Condition: New. 354 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.8in. The View From the Rigging will plunge you into intriguing stories of a twenty-eight year Coast Guard career that spanned the Cold War, the turbulent sixties, and the period of Detente with Russia. Captain Marcott's crisp scenic details will make you feel as though you are with him when he encounters Ernest Hemingway, Jacques Cousteau, Eliot Richardson, and Perry Como. You will discover how Nikita Khrushchev changed his life. You will feel the tension in a dramatic night rescue in stormy Chesapeake Bay. You will experience the fury of a hurricane at sea on one of the largest sea searches in history for survivors of the German sail-training ship Pamir. You will laugh with him as he outfoxes a U. S. Navy blockade, and when he stumbles to explain to a Japanese artist why his portrait of the Captains wedding is all wrong. I never cease to be amazed as to how much I learn from Captain Marcott's memoirs of a fascinating world I never knew existed. The stories are a tribute to his service that he tells with beautiful detail, humor, and pathos. Dani Weber, Asst. Prof....
