KERBEROS SECURITY IN A CLIENT-SERVER SYSTEM MANAGEMENT APPLICATION

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: VDM Verlag Dr. Müller | The Implementation of an Authentication Mechanism Using the Generic Security Services API | Heterogeneity of distributed computing systems has taken root in most companies at the end of the last century. The effort for administration has increased dramatically due to the plurality of different solutions for System Management. The Web Based Enterprise Management initiative establishes an infrastructure for such kind of System Management Applications with a common and standardized interface. From the security point of view there...
